

Agreement for Market Information Users

April 1, 2020
Revised June 18, 2021

- 1) This shows whether you will need to sign an Information Provision Agreement (IPA) with Osaka Exchange, Inc. (OSE) in order to acquire and use market information of OSE and Tokyo Commodity Exchange, Inc. (TOCOM). Please note that this is only the standard flow and some cases may be different from this. For any inquiries as to the information acquisition or/and necessary actions for IPA execution, please contact OSE (md@jpx.co.jp).
- 2) Yellow parts at the bottom indicate which user type you will belong to for “9 Fee Structure - I. Basic fee, etc.” in Policies Regarding Usage of Market Information (Policy) in case you need to sign an IPA.
- 3) “Information” here includes Real-Time, Delayed and Closing Information.

(*1) For example, if Company X receives the Information from their vendor Company Y in data feed and display it on a terminal using Company Y's applications for internal use, Company X will not need to sign an IPA.

(*2) If you meet the Policy's "3.2.3 Service Facilitator", you will not need to sign an IPA. Please contact OSE (md@jpx.co.jp) for further information.

Note: If you will need an IPA and are categorized as Exchanges/PTSs, etc. or News Organization as defined in the Policy, please see “4. Exchanges/PTSs, etc.”, or “5. News Organizations (or News media (excluding the case when distributing real time information))” of the Policy.
