1. QUALITATIVE INFORMATION ON OPERATING RESULTS DURING THE CURRENT QUARTER

(1) Qualitative Information on Consolidated Operating Results

With respect to the consolidated operating results of the TSE group (the Company, consolidated subsidiaries and affiliated companies accounted for using the equity method) during the consolidated cumulative second quarter (meaning the six months from April 1, 2012 to September 30, 2012; hereinafter the same), operating income decreased mainly due to a decline in equities trading value, and operating expense declined mainly due to disposal of the previous systems in tandem with the migration of futures trading to the Tdex+ System being recorded in the same period of last year. Under these circumstances, operating revenue fell to ¥26,162 million (1.9% decrease from the same period of last year (i.e. year-on-year)) and operating expenses fell to ¥20,042 million (9.2% decrease), resulting in operating profit of ¥6,120 million (33.1% increase).

The TSE group saw ordinary profit of ¥6,913 million (29.9% increase), income before income taxes and minority interest of ¥6,600 million (24.0% increase), and net income of ¥4,559 million (44.3% increase).

In addition, Osaka Securities Exchange Co., Ltd. became a consolidated subsidiary as a result of the acquisition of 66.67% of shares of the company through a tender offer. However, due to the acquisition date for consolidated accounting being taken as September 30, 2012, the consolidated financial results for the consolidated cumulative second quarter do not include said company's profit or loss.

3) Income from information services

Income from information services is comprised of income related to the provision of corporate action information and various other information, primarily consisting of fees for market information provided to information vendors (market information fees), and also income related to the index business. During the consolidated cumulative second quarter, income from market information decreased 4.5% to ¥5,344 million mainly due to a decline in market information fees from a decrease in the number of terminals that accessed market information.

4) Income from securities settlement

Income from securities settlement is derived from settlement commissions related to the assumption of financial instrument obligations carried out by Japan Securities Clearing Corporation.

During the consolidated cumulative second quarter, income from securities settlement decreased 0.6% to ¥3,432 million due to a decline in equities trading value even as trading volume of JGB futures and TOPIX futures increased year-on-year.

5) Other operating income

Other operating income consists of "arrownet Usage Fees", "Co-location Usage Fees", "Proximity Usage Fees", and fees for system development and operations provided by TOSHO SYSTEM SERVICE CO., LTD. "arrownet Usage Fees" are those related to use of the network which connect TSE's trading system, market information systems, etc. to trading participants and users. "Co-location Usage Fees" are those for using the service which allows trading participants to place their devices, etc. within the TSE system center for the purpose of accelerating trade execution, etc. "Proximity Usage Fees" are those for using the proximity service which diversifies connectivity to domestic and Asian markets, and can be used by trading participants and market-related parties, such as information vendors.

During the consolidated cumulative second quarter, other operating income increased 0.8% to ¥3,931 million.

(Operating expenses)

During the consolidated cumulative second quarter, salaries and compensation decreased 4.1% to ¥5,488 million.

Real estate rental fees are primarily rental fees for the Tokyo Stock Exchange building and for system development and operational facilities. These fees decreased 0.5%, to ¥2,657 million.

System maintenance and operation costs consist of maintenance and operation costs for arrowhead and other systems, and these costs increased 2.6%, to ¥2,961 million.

Depreciation for the consolidated cumulative second quarter decreased significantly by 27.6% to ¥4,162 million due to factors such as the disposal of the previous systems in tandem with the migration of futures trading to the Tdex+ System being recorded in the same period of last year.

Other operating expenses during the consolidated cumulative second quarter decreased 5.3% to ¥4,772 million mainly due to a decrease in system development costs at TOSHO SYSTEM SERVICE CO., LTD.

(2) Qualitative Information on Consolidated Financial Position

(Assets, liabilities and equity)

Clearing deposit money, etc. (margin funds for derivatives and when-issued transactions, deposits for clearing funds, and deposits as collateral for facilitating settlement), legal guarantee funds, deposits received as trading participants security money, and default compensation reserve funds, all of which hedges risks of securities trading based on various rules, are recorded as assets and liabilities. Out of these assets and liabilities, clearing deposit money, etc. are large in amount and fluctuate daily in line with clearing participants' positions and stock price movements, and, as a result, the amounts of TSE group's assets and liabilities are significantly impacted by fluctuations in these clearing funds, etc. (refer to "Section 3. CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS: (5) Notes - Consolidated Balance Sheet - *3. Assets and liabilities for hedging risks of securities trading" for more information regarding these assets and liabilities).

Assets as of the end of the consolidated second quarter accounting period increased ¥478,833 million from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year to ¥824,081 million mainly due to Osaka Securities Exchange Co., Ltd. becoming a new consolidated subsidiary.

Excluding clearing deposit money, etc., legal guarantee funds, and default compensation reserve funds, assets increased ¥102,521 million to ¥248,303 million from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year.

Total liabilities as of the end of the consolidated second quarter accounting period (September 30, 2012) increased ¥457,495 million to ¥675,621 million from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year. Excluding clearing deposit money, etc., legal guarantee funds, and deposits received as trading participants security money, liabilities increased ¥92,070 million to ¥124,572 million from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year.

Net assets as of the end of the consolidated second quarter accounting period (September 30, 2012) increased ¥21,337 million from the previous consolidated fiscal year to ¥148,459 million. In addition, after excluding default compensation reserve funds, total equity was ¥120,511 million.

(Cash flow)

During the consolidated cumulative second quarter, cash and cash equivalents increased ¥12,220 million from the end of the previous consolidated fiscal year to ¥39,999 million mainly due to Osaka Securities Exchange Co., Ltd. becoming a new consolidated subsidiary.

1) Cash flow in operating activities

There was cash inflow of ¥7,958 million from operating activities mainly as a result of adding ¥4,246 million in depreciation to and subtracting ¥2,602 million in income taxes paid from ¥6,600 million in income before income taxes and minority interests.

2) Cash flow in investing activities

There was cash outflow of ¥82,290 million from investing activities mainly due to ¥81,621 million in expenditure for acquisition of subsidiary shares.

3) Cash flow in financing activities

There was cash inflow of ¥86,556 million from financing activities mainly due to revenue from long-term loans payable of ¥86,399 million.

2. OTHER INFORMATION

(1) Adoption of peculiar accounting methods for quarterly consolidated financial statements (Calculation of income tax expense)

The Company's consolidated subsidiary, Osaka Securities Exchange Co., Ltd., adopts a method whereby it obtains a reasonable estimate of the effective tax rate after applying tax effect accounting to income before income taxes for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2013, and calculates the amount of income taxes by multiplying the income before income taxes for the six months ended September 30, 2012 by such effective tax rate.

(2) Changes in accounting policies / Changes in accounting estimates / Restatements

i. Changes in accounting policies

In connection with the forthcoming business combination with Osaka Securities Exchange Co., Ltd., TSE group reviewed the following accounting policies and changed them accordingly from the consolidated first quarter accounting period.

(Change in depreciation method for property and equipment)

The TSE group's depreciation method for property and equipment was previously based on the application of the declining-balance method (the straight-line method was applied to buildings (excluding facilities accompanying buildings) acquired on or after April 1, 1998). From the consolidated first quarter accounting period, the TSE group changed the depreciation method to the straight-line method.

This change was determined based on the following two main reasons.

- (i) Software makes up a large part of the hardware and software of the systems which are integrally managed and operated. Changing the depreciation method for hardware, which is property and equipment, to the straight-line method that is used for software is in line with the actual situation of use.
- (ii) The cost pertaining to maintenance and repair of property and equipment is generally incurred equally in each period of use. Adopting the straight-line method for leveling in periods allocated for depreciation costs leads to calculation that better reflects the financial situation for the period.

Due to this, in comparison with the previous method, operating profit for the consolidated cumulative second quarter increased ¥298 million, and ordinary profit and income before income taxes and minority interests increased ¥302 million respectively.

(Change in method for valuation of securities)

The TSE group's method for valuation of securities (available-for-sale securities without fair value) was previously based on the weighted-average method. From the consolidated first quarter accounting period, the TSE group changed the valuation method to the moving-average method which allows timely calculation of the cost of securities sold. The change in this accounting policy is applied retroactively, and with respect to the previous consolidated cumulative second quarter and the previous consolidated fiscal year, the retroactive application is reflected in the quarterly consolidated financial statements and consolidated financial statements.

There is no effect due to this change.

ii. Changes in accounting estimates

In the consolidated first quarter accounting period, Japan Securities Depository Center, Inc., an affiliated company, conducted a review of the useful life of the fixed assets whose period of use became shorter due to the decision to activate the new system.

Due to this, in comparison with the previous method, ordinary profit and income before income taxes and minority interests decreased ¥42 million respectively during the consolidated cumulative second quarter.

In addition, Osaka Securities Exchange Co., Ltd. and New Osaka Securities Exchange Preparatory Corporation are not included in changes in accounting policies / changes in accounting estimates / restatements for the consolidated cumulative second quarter.

(Consolidated Balance Sheet)

1. Liabilities for guarantees

	Fiscal year ended March 31, 2012	Six months ended September 30, 2012
Guarantees for housing loans from banks for employees	¥2,998 million	¥2,880 million

2. Litigation

Mizuho Securities Co., Ltd. filed a lawsuit with the Tokyo District Court against TSE Group's consolidated subsidiary Tokyo Stock Exchange, Inc., seeking ¥41,578 million in compensation for damages related to Mizuho Securities Co., Ltd.'s erroneous placement of an order for shares of J-COM Co., Ltd. that occurred on December 8, 2005, and on December 4, 2009, the Court ordered Tokyo Stock Exchange, Inc. to pay compensation (¥10,712 million plus delinquency charges). On December 18, 2009, Tokyo Stock Exchange, Inc. made a payment of ¥13,213 million including delinquency charges through that date in order to avoid the compulsory execution under the Court's ruling with a declaration of provisional execution.

In response to this ruling, Mizuho Securities Co., Ltd. has filed an appeal with the Tokyo High Court, and Tokyo Stock Exchange, Inc. has filed an incidental appeal, and the case is currently in litigation.

*3. Assets and liabilities for hedging risks of securities trading

TSE Group's consolidated subsidiaries, Tokyo Stock Exchange, Inc., Japan Securities Clearing Corporation and Osaka Securities Exchange Co., Ltd. (collectively, "Exchange") have established various systems including receiving clearing funds, based on the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act as well as Exchange rules and regulations, to ensure confidence in securities trading in the market. Since clearing participants assume obligations and obtain rights arising from securities transactions, etc., Japan Securities Clearing Corporation and Osaka Securities Exchange Co., Ltd., as a clearing organization for financial instrument transactions, bears the risk of non-performance of obligations by clearing participants based on the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act and other laws and regulations. In addition, Tokyo Stock Exchange, Inc. and Osaka Securities Exchange Co., Ltd. hedge the risk borne by entrustors in securities transactions due to the non-performance of obligations by trading participants, and therefore receives the Guarantee Funds from trading participants based on the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act and other Financial Instruments and Exchange Act and other laws and regulations. The assets for all of these deposits are cash or securities in lieu of money (limited to those securities approved under Exchange rules and regulations), which are kept segregated from other assets, with the cash portion shown separately under assets or liabilities for its respective deposit purpose.

The fair value of securities deposited in place of cash was as follows:

	Fiscal year ended March 31, 2012	Six months ended September 30, 2012
1) Margin funds for derivatives	¥ 673,708 million	¥ 947,688 million
2) Deposits for clearing funds	¥ 125,810 million	¥ 182,510 million
 Deposits as collateral for facilitating settlement 	¥ 70,648 million	¥58,304 million
4) Legal guarantee funds	¥ 1,212 million	¥ 1,077 million

In addition, Tokyo Stock Exchange, Inc. bears the risk of nonperformance of obligations by trading participants, and therefore receives deposits as trading participants security money from trading participants based on its internal regulations. The assets for these deposits are cash or substituted securities (limited to those securities approved under internal regulations), with the cash portion recorded as cash and bank deposits under assets, and as deposits received as trading participants guarantee under liabilities. The fair value of securities deposited in place of cash was as follows:

The fail value of securities deposited in place of cash was as follows.
	Fiscal year ended	Six months ended
	March 31, 2012	September 30, 2012
Deposits as trading participants security money	¥ 1,583 million	¥ 1,447 million

Tokyo Stock Exchange, Inc. and Osaka Securities Exchange Co., Ltd. also have reserve funds related to clearing operations to compensate for losses incurred by Japan Securities Clearing Corporation or Osaka Securities Exchange Co., Ltd., and these are recorded under assets as special assets for default compensation reserve funds.
