2. Reason for Revision

In light of recent market conditions, we have revised the average daily trading values and volumes that were the assumptions used in the consolidated earnings forecast announced in the "Consolidated financial results for the three months ended June 30, 2026 (Based on IFRS), unaudited" disclosed on July 28, 2026 (hereinafter "previously disclosed materials"). Specifically, the consolidated earnings forecast has been revised based on the revised average daily trading values and volumes (changes from the previously disclosed materials are indicated in parentheses) of ¥11 trillion for stocks* (up ¥0.8 trillion), 52,000 contracts for 10-year JGB Futures (up 1,000 contracts), 88,000 contracts for TOPIX Futures (up 1,000 contracts), 133,000 contracts for Nikkei 225 Futures (down 3,000 contracts), and ¥38.5 billion for Nikkei 225 Options (up ¥8.5 billion).

*The trading value of stocks listed on the TSE Prime, Standard, and Growth Markets and TOKYO PRO Market, and that of ETFs, ETNs, REITs, etc. (includes auction and off-auction trading)

Includes Nikkei 225 mini and Nikkei 225 micro Futures contract volumes converted into large-sized contracts

3. Revised Dividend Forecast

We adopt a dividend policy with a target payout ratio of at least 60% tied to business performance while giving due consideration to the importance of internal reserves for the following purposes:

- Maintaining sound financial health as a financial instruments exchange group,

- Preparing for risks as a clearing organization, and
- Enabling the group to pursue investment opportunities as they arise in order to raise the competitiveness of its markets.

In line with the abovementioned policy, the dividend forecast for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2027 has been revised as follows due to an expected increase in net income attributable to owners of the parent company in the revision to the consolidated earnings forecast.

	Dividend per share
	Second quarter	Year-end	Annual
Previous forecast	¥38.00	¥39.00	¥77.00
Revised forecast	¥41.00	¥41.00	¥82.00
